

It has been wonderful to finally sit down to dinner and not be interrupted by telemarketers. Before the "no call list" was put into effect, I would have at least 4 calls during the evening meal, and the calls would continue throughout the rest of the evening. Do not change. Please.